1412 Pearl Street is a City of Eugene Historic Landmark.

The beautifully crafted duplex was constructed in 1914 for Edgar and Amy Westfall and their relatives, Homer and Beulah Soult. The home was built in the American Craftsman style which began at the end of the 19th century and remained popular into the 1930s. Douglas fir trim highlights the interior. In 1993, the building was transformed from a duplex to a single, integrated building.
